TRADITION

GREG TONAGEL

The fastest and youngest coach to 500 wins along with three National Championships, Indiana Wesleyan University Head Coach Greg Tonagel understands the formula for success. The former LaPorte Slicer and Indiana All-Star understands what it takes to build a winning tradition in the state of Indiana. Since the IWU Men's Basketball Program has hosted Super Hoops team camps, it has become the largest team camp in the state! Year after year, the top programs in the state sign up to compete against first-class competition to position themselves for success in the regular season.

"Working with Indiana high school basketball programs in the summer is a highlight of my job. It's an honor to play a part in the growth and development of so many special programs." -Greg Tonagel

JOHN DILLMAN

In 1997, John Dillman, the founder of Super Hoops Team Camps, pioneered organized team camps for high school programs to prepare for the season by playing high level competition in the off season. Twenty-seven years later, Super Hoops Team Camps is the largest team camp in the state with nearly 100 teams competing each summer. Super Hoops has offered coaches the opportunity to build team chemistry, develop players' fundamentals, and connect with other coaches across the state.

TESTIMONIALS

Super Hoops is a can't-miss summer staple for my players and our program. I can confidently say there is not a better camp experience for developing your entire program. The intensity, competition, and overall environment are second to none. Every year, our players, coaching staff, and program leave camp better because of the experience.

Barak Coolman
Penn Head Coach

For more than 16 years, our program has made Super Hoops a key part of our summer development. It provides an outstanding opportunity for players to bond as a team, compete at a high level, and grow in accountability on and off the court. The camp is extremely organized, the campus is first class, and the level of competition is consistently top-notch.

Ryan Osborn
Carmel Head Coach

Super Hoops Team Camp is built on the belief that the little things matter most. From dining and housing to facilities, technology, and overall organization, the Super Hoops staff consistently creates an exceptional experience. It's no surprise that when players reflect on their careers, many of their fondest memories come from their time spent at Super Hoops.

Paoli Head Coach
